

Associated Audio

"Run to" by Jessica Lynn

A2 Level Words

just	adverb	now or very soon quiet	adjective	not noisy, making little sound pulling	verb	to take hold of something and move it towards you already	adverb	before now, or before a particular time in the past myself	pronoun	used when the action is affecting the speaker hold	verb	to have something in your hand or arms through	preposition	from one end of something to the other might	modal verb	used to talk about what will possibly happen real	adjective	not artificial or false

B1 Level Words

feel like	verb	to be similar to something; used to compare two things sand	noun	a substance made from very small grains of rock found on beaches lied	verb	to say or write something which is not true secrets	noun	something that you tell no one or only a few people die to	verb	to be extremely eager to have or do something think of	verb	to use your imagination and intelligence to produce an idea or solution tear	verb	to damage something by pulling it apart or into pieces hide	verb	to keep a feeling or information secret touch	noun	to put your hand on something

B2 Level Words

mind	verb	the part of a person that makes them able to think and to feel figure out	phrasal verb	thinking about somebody or something until you understand them/it

C1/C2 Level Words tired of

phrasal verb

to become bored with something or begin to enjoy it less quick sand

noun

deep wet sand that you sink into if you walk on it